

XS & Umbrella Transportation

If you have clients that are in the transportation industry, then you know how many excess markets enter, exit or evolve. The transportation landscape is ever-changing and always evolving. Because of the uncertainty in the marketplace and on the roads, agents depend on our expertise and market intelligence to determine the best fit for each individual risk.

We can provide coverage for an account as small as one-unit trucker needing a $1MM xs $1MM or a 6,000-unit operation that needs a $100MM excess program and everything in-between.
